

We especially thank the following persons:

Comune di Padova

Urbanistica
Prof. Luigi Mariani
Arch. Gianfranco Zulian

Mobilità, Città metropolitana, Verde, Acque fluviali
Dott. Ivo Rossi
Dott. Giampaolo Barbariol
Ambiente e Parchi Urbani
Dott. Francesco Bicciato

Zona Industriale Padova
Ing. Alberto Danieli
Dott. Pietro Francescon
Geom. Dino Lion
Dott.ssa Vera Mazzocato
Dott.ssa Manuela Morbin
Dott. Marco Morbin
Dott. Maurizio Mazzari
Dott. Alberto Salvagno

Genio Civile di Padova
Ing. Maurizio Pinato

Magistrato alle Acque di Venezia, Centro Sperimentale per Modelli Idraulici di Voltabarozzo
Ing. Maurizio Pozzato

Provincia di Padova – Urbanistica
Dott. Flavio Frasson

Comune di Ponte San Nicolò
Sindaco Giovanni Gasparin
Arch. Martino Schiavon

Comune di Polverara
Sindaco Olindo Bertipaglia

Ente di Bacino Padova 2
Dott. Andrea Atzori
Dott. Amedeo Levorato

Pecchini arch. Filippo
Studio d'Architettura
Arch. Filippo Pecchini

Harvard University Graduate School of Design
Prof. Miroslava Benes
Prof. Alan Berger
Prof. Robert France
Randy Gragg
Computer Resources Group

Arthur Adeya
is a Master of Landscape Architecture student. He holds a Bachelor in Architecture degree from the University of Nairobi, Kenya, where he also worked as an architect on low-income housing developmental projects.

Charlotte Barrows is a Master of Landscape Architecture student. She graduated from the University of Virginia with a Bachelors of Science in Architecture. She previously worked at an architectural firm in London, England.

Ashley H. Bastow is a Master of Landscape Architecture student. She holds an undergraduate degree in Art History from Colgate University. She previously worked for an architecture firm in Washington, DC, on the recently opened National Museum of the American Indian.

Philippa Brashear is a Master of Landscape Architecture student. She graduated from Harvard College with a major in Environmental Science and Public Policy. She worked for a Community Development NGO on projects in India. She also worked on a community service fellowship with New Yorkers for Parks.

E. Susan Chamberlain is a Master of Urban Planning student. She has undergraduate studies in computer science at MIT and graduated from Northeastern University, majoring in English. Susan was a research assistant at the Volpe Center in the U.S. Department of Transportation, where she focused on Geographic Information Systems and database management.

Keith Cinami
is a Masters of Urban Planning student. He studied Business Administration as an undergraduate and majored in Finance at the University of Rhode Island. He worked in corporate finance and with the Rhode Island non profit environmental organization, Save the Bay.

Marisa Fort Spear
is a Master of Architecture student. She holds a Bachelors degree in Architecture from Columbia University. During her junior year of college Marisa participated in a study abroad program in Rome.

Stephanie Hurley is a Doctor of Design student. She received her undergraduate degree in Conservation and Resource Studies at the University of California, Berkeley, and a Masters in Landscape Architecture at the University of Washington. She has worked as a researcher and consultant for the City of Seattle, and as a landscape planner for Washington State.

Young Min Kim
is a Masters of Landscape Architecture student. He received both a Bachelor of Science in Landscape Architecture and a Bachelor of Science in Architecture from Seoul National University, Korea. He has interned at Group Han, a landscape architecture office in Seoul, Korea, and at EDAW in Irvine, California.

Ilana Liebert
is a Master of Landscape Architecture student. She graduated from Dartmouth College with a major in Geology/Earth Sciences and minor in Studio Art. Ilana has professional and academic experience in geology and environmental geochemistry.

Lauren Therese Lynn is a Master of Landscape Architecture student. She holds a Bachelors degree from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, where she received a BA in Architecture. She has recently interned in the office of Michael Van Valkenburgh and Associates in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Varna Shashidhar is a Master of Landscape Architecture student. She holds a Bachelors degree in Architecture from Bangalore, India. She worked in Sri Lanka, and for a landscape architectural firm in Bangalore before coming to Harvard.

Jennifer Toy
is a concurrent student for degrees in Master of Landscape Architecture and Master of Urban Planning. She holds a Bachelors degree in History of Science from Harvard College.

Juan Carlos Vargas-Moreno
(Teaching Fellow)
is a Doctoral Candidate at Harvard's Graduate School of Design and a Doctoral Research Fellow in the Science, Environment and Development Group of Harvard's Center for International Development. He holds degrees in Architecture and Urban Design from the University of Costa Rica and Master in Design Studies in Landscape Planning and Ecology from the Harvard University Graduate School of Design.

Laura Cipriani
is a PhD Candidate at Venice University (IUAV) focusing on Landscape Urbanism Studies. She works as an architect in Padova dealing with industrial developments and urban design projects, and she teaches the course "Landscape, cities and infrastructure" in a postgraduate Masters program at Padova University (DAUR). Laura holds Bachelors and Masters Degrees in Architecture from Venice University (IUAV) and a Master in Design Studies from Harvard University Graduate School of Design.

Professor Carl Steinitz
Carl Steinitz is the Victoria and Alexander Wiley Professor of Landscape Architecture and Planning at the Graduate School of Design, Harvard University.